To Whom It May Concern:

I highly commend and recommend the senior home care services provided by Ingrid Cirillo.

Ingrid provided home care services initially for my father, Anthony Bartolotta, for a few months and then for my mother, Helen Bartolotta for over two years. During the time she was caring for my mother, I observed her condition actually improve because of Ingrid's adherence to diet, exercise and medication schedules. Ingrid communicated effectively with me regarding my mother's care and condition, allowing me to be confident of her care while living on the other side of the country.

Ingrid demonstrated skill, compassion, warmth, integrity and attentiveness in caring for my mother, achieving the appropriate level of companionship and firmness that was necessary to insure her health and quality of life. My mother was loving and at the same time strong and difficult. Ingrid demonstrated the right mix of understanding and firmness to handle a challenging senior.

I am grateful for the care Ingrid provided and the bond that developed between her and my mother. Without the quality of care she provided, it is unlikely that my mother could have continued to live independently and maintain the quality of life we desired for her.

I strongly recommend her to anyone requiring exceptional senior care.

Sincerely,

Jim Bartolotta
